A brilliant debut novel by Australian author, Rhiannon Hart. I was captivated by Blood Song immediately. Zeraphina craves blood like any human craves food and water. The pull to travel north is unexplainable and only her archery can occupy her mind otherwise.

Blood Song is an easy kind of fantasy (fantasy lite, if you will). Zeraphina's world is not at all difficult to get into. The set up is pretty bare, and like the character we don't know that much. Consider, there's Amentia, her home. Then Pergamia, another

Song by Rhiannon Hart (Lharmell #1) Book description (from Goodreads) – I wanted to turn but I was held captive by the song on the wind.

~~Lharmell #1 | Treasured Tales for Young Adults~~

Blood Song first came to my attention after finding out it was written by an Australian author. I became even more curious after reading some great reviews. Fantasy seems to be one of the genres that I tend to pay less attention to. I'm not sure why. I have read some young-adult fantasy that I really love and are some of my favorite books.
